Mr. H. N. Warner, of Kearney, Neb., says:

"In 1894 I was attacked with paralysis in my left side. You might stick a pin to the head into my left hip and I would not feel it. I was unable to do any kind of work, and had to be turned in bed. I fully made up my mind that I could not be cured, as I had used all kinds of medicine and had tried many doctors. At last I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and I very reluctantly commenced their use last September. Before I had finished my first box I began to feel much better, and by the time I had used six boxes the paralysis disappeared; and although two months have passed since I finished my last box, there has been no recurrence of the disease."

From the Advertiser, Axtell, Neb.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the ele-ments necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such disases as locomotor as are, partial paralysis, it. Peculiarities of the Japanese Bath. To their credit, be it said, Jans are regular whales at bathing, and usually when not drinking tea are bathing. Their only trouble in life seems to be their inability to enjoy both these delights at the same time. If some American trick swimmer could teach the Japs how to swallow tea out of a bottle while under water, they would build a fin temple round him, burn incense made of old rars and bones under his nose and worship him. Public baths are numerous in which "mixed bathing" was practiced until lately, but now a bamboo fence separates the sexes, though it does not screen them from view, the fence be ing only two feet high in bathhouses in the interior of Japan. Some homes have a wooden bathtub, circular shape with a stove built in one end, which heats the water. The whole family, beginning with the father, bathe in the same water. Sometimes women "tub" themselves and their children outside their doors in the streets where sidewalks should be. The first time a foreigner falls over one of these bath ing parties and into the arms of the bather he feels the situation is unique, but by the time he has tumbled over his shins and makes some very uncomplimentary comment, while the polite little woman underneath squeaks out, little woman underneath squeaks out,
